Session Abstract Update
KEY-M09W: What Do We Owe One Another in the Cybersecurity Ecosystem?
Monday, June 6: 3:50 PM –4:10 PM
Moscone West Street Level
Abstract: We have never been more connected than we are at this moment in time. This ecosystem radically increases our shared cybersecurity risk and demands collective defense. It's not enough to volunteer to share information or give free training to organizations below the Security Poverty Line; what more do we truly owe one another?

Speaker Addition & Abstract Update
KEY-M10W: The Next Disruption: Security Beyond the Perimeter and Endpoint
Monday, June 6: 4:10 PM – 4:30 PM
Moscone West Street Level
Speaker: Dr. Amelia Estwick, Director of Threat Research, VMware
Abstract: The Next Disruption: Security Beyond the Perimeter and Endpoint
Three years ago, VMware challenged the industry to think differently. What has changed since then? How have we fared on that journey amid a global pandemic and increasing ransomware?
Join Tom Gillis and Dr. Amelia Estwick as they share insights on the next areas of disruption, thinking laterally beyond the perimeter and the endpoint - to clouds, containers, APIs, and everything in between.
